Our department students were taken to Thondi, Soliyankudi, Nambuthalai and karankadu for Extension activities visit. This visit is carried out to create awareness about society and develop a sense of social commitment. We started our journey at 9 am with the blessings of God through prayer.

First the students went the Thondi Harbor, to interact with the fishermen at the sea, fish Market. They collected information about the income they earned per day, the maintenance of boat, the way they marketed they fish.

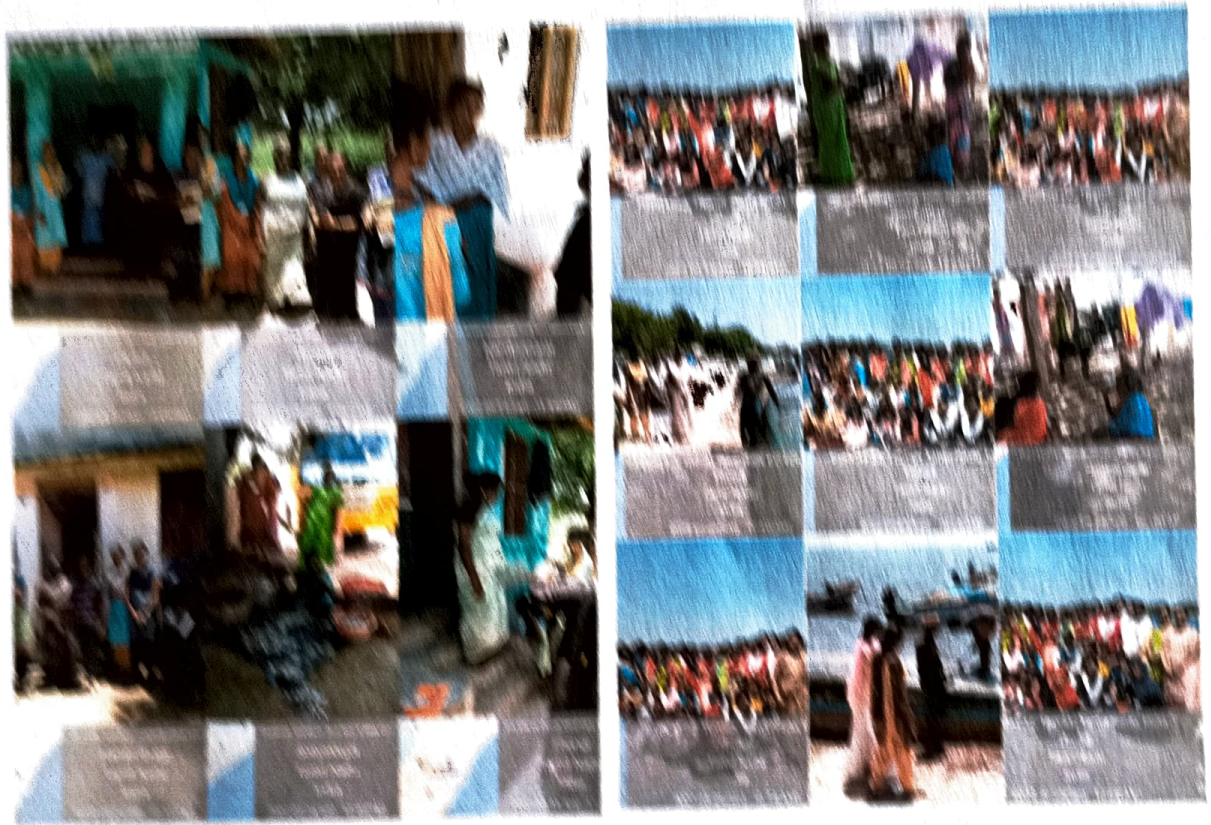

Next they students were taken to Soliyankudi and Nambuthalai to meet the fisherman families at their residence. They intermingled about the standard of living income of the family, facility of the village, how to sale the fishes to the market?

Then they visited to Karankadu, which is familiar for mangrove trees covered as island and for boat rides. They were taken for boat ride with the safety measures by wearing jacket proof. Nearly 150 families were visited by the students.

During the visit, the students gathered the following information;

- The people at Thondi Shore used to calm down themselves in the evening time at the harbor. They felt that when they sat there, they got relaxed and can get rid of their stress.
- They have a chance of getting fresh and variety of fishes for their food.
- The fishermen said that they maintained their boats once a month.

- They are free from fishing during the breeding season.
- They are suffering for drinking water though they are surrounded by plenty of water.
- They have to walk for a mile to have drinking water.
- Majority of them depend the fishing industry. They cannot opt for some other work.
- They felt economically weak during the season when the people prefer vegetarian food.
- They can't fish alternate days.
- They need to buy the diesel at a subsidy rate. But they have to arrange the nets on their own.
