Our Department of Biochemistry organized the International Webinar on “ Recent Advancement of Green Nano materials used for Plant development & Biological Treatment “ on 20.06.2021. In this webinar, Dr. K. Gopinath, Post Doctoral Fellow, School of Material & Energy, Southwest University, Chongqing, China was invited as a resource person.

The program was started at 10.00am with the prayer song. After the prayer, welcome address delivered by our staff, Mrs. A.Johnsi Amala, Asst . Prof, Department of Biochemistry and our Principal Rev. Sr. Dr.C.Jothi Mary was presented the presidential address . In this webinar , Professor, Research Scholar and students were participated.

After the welcome address our Resource person Dr.K.Gopinath, presented the ideas about the nanoparticles used in different plants, and how the nanomaterial used in research field and explain the types of nanoparticles used for plant development & treatment .

Harvesting

- In vitro regenerated plants were successfully harvested and acclimatized 97%
- As NPs incorporated in vitro regenerated plants were successfully harvested and acclimatized 97%

IV - Green synthesis of gold nanoparticles using a cheap Sphaerotheca indicus extract: impact on plant cells and the aquatic crustacean Artemia nauplii

Effects of different concentrations of (A) ZnO and (B) Cu-ZnO NPs on the in vitro regeneration of Sphaerotheca indicus shootlets

Concentration of ZnO	Concentration of Cu-ZnO NPs	Regeneration (%)	Survival (%)	Acclimatization (%)
0	0	100	100	100
100	0	100	100	100
200	0	100	100	100

As NPs used for Antibacterial activity

- Even though the ZnO NPs had cell-synthetic conditions, they may not kill the bacterial cell due to its non-toxicity
- Similarly, Cu NPs induced the cell division without any induction and cytotoxicity effect of ZnO NPs

All the participants were attended sincerely and asked the question, doubt in the questionnaire session. Our resource person was explained the answer and clarified the doubt clearly in a nice manner. This webinar was conducted successfully and all the participants got the knowledge in the research field. At the end of the session, a feedback link was sent through Google Meet and all the participants filled the feedback and got an E certificate through their mail.
